Arab League Stands Behind Nasser If Egypt Attacked

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The nine-nation Arab League Political Committee declared today aggression against Egypt would be considered aggression against all other Arab countries.

The committee also pledged support to President Nasser's proposal for a 45-nation conference to discuss renewed guarantees of freedom of navigation of the Suez Canal.

Nasser advanced this proposal yesterday in rejecting Britain's invitation to Egypt to attend the Western-sponsored Suez parley opening in London Thursday.

In his statement, Nasser said Egypt had not nationalized the canal but rather the company which operates the canal. He said the firm was chartered originally to operate under Egyptian law. He insisted he had no intention of curbing traffic on the canal.

The Arab League, a loosely knit organization with headquarters in Cairo, is made up of Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria and Yemen.

Egypt was the only one of this group invited to London.

In the face of the Arab statement, Britain airlifted more troops into the Mediterranean to meet "any emergency." In fact, it was a two-way airlift.

As giant planes landed troops in Britain's island outposts around Suez, two flying boats began ferrying British wives and children from the canal zone to Malta. They are dependents of British employees still in the zone.

Meanwhile, in Washington, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles seemed assured of considerable bipartisan support for their drive to settle the Suez crisis peacefully.

Evidence of broad Democratic as well as Republican backing among congressional leaders developed after Eisenhower and Dulles had briefed nine Democrats and 13 Republicans yesterday on "the continuing gravity of the situation" and what the administration plans to do about it.

Officials said results of the conference in the White House Cabinet Room should strengthen Dulles' hand when he enters a 22-nation conference in London this week on the future of the canal.

Dulles, who leaves tomorrow, was winding up preparations today to seek agreement by a majority of the 22 countries on a proposal for placing operation of the canal under an international authority.

Such agreement could provide a basis for later negotiation with Nasser, who took sole control of the canal July 26, and with Russia, India and other countries which side with Nasser.

Phone Chieftain Tells Governor Of 'Terrorism'

Ohio Consolidated Boss Complaining About 'Imported Hoodlums'

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—The president of the struck Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. complained to Gov. Frank J. Lausche today of "terroristic activities" against the company and "imported hoodlums acting in concert with the union."

In the face of consistent union denials of responsibility for the violence, Ohio Consolidated President C. E. Williams wired Lausche about a disturbance at the company's Cadiz exchange last Wednesday and referred to it as "riot action."

The union involved is the Communication Workers of America. Its members have been on strike a month.

Williams' telegram did not reach Lausche immediately. It was sent to the Governor's Mansion in Columbus, but Lausche is attending the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Williams said full telephone service will be restored in the six closed Jefferson County exchanges as soon as effective police control is "unequivocally assured so that law and order can be effectively maintained."

The six exchanges are at Brilliant, Smithfield, Mount Pleasant, Dillonvale, Tiltonville and Adena.

"OFFICIALS of these villages had previously advised of the extreme limitation of the police protection available," Williams wrote the governor. "This strong feeling of concern persisted by reason of the fact that the Adena exchange had already been closed on Sunday morning (Aug. 5) for the second time because of terroristic activities and associated extensive damage to the central office building there."

He said picketing activities at the Cadiz exchange last Wednesday night "assumed riot proportions which raged for nearly six hours and against which no effective police protection was afforded. In the exchange building during the riot action there 10 women and 9 men."

Williams said the Cadiz exchange was closed overnight Thursday "to avoid possibility of jeopardy of life and limb."

Cadiz Police Chief Fred Davis said he did consider the disturbance to be a "riot." He said his department was "doing all it could" to protect supervisors manning the building.

He said he believed damage was caused by people who came into the city, possibly from outside the area.

Tipsy Patron's Auto Rams Bar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"You'll be sorry," a slightly tipsy bar patron cried when a bartender refused to serve him another drink.

The man left and a few minutes later, officers said, he drove his car crashing through the bar's front door. One of the 20-odd customers was bruised.

Police said the irate driver, Boyd G. Franklin, 31, was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 650 delegates to the 23rd Ohio annual conference of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church pledged yesterday to buy sheets, bedding and other items made by Negroes of Montgomery, Ala.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don't shoot, men—that blue-haired Viking in the kitchen may be your wife.

The California Cosmetologist Assn. at its annual convention displayed the hairdos of nearly 150 hair stylists—and something called the bouffant emerged as the dominant new style.

The bouffant was described as the flaring out of hair on the sides into the shape of an old Viking warrior's helmet. It's the fashion of 1912, but with a modern touch.

The "touch" was blue tint. "Everything's blue these days," an expert said.

Autopsy Due On Body of Medic's Wife

LANCASTER (AP)—The body of Mrs. Jeane Geer, first wife of the Fairfield County coroner, was disinterred today for an autopsy, Prosecutor E. Raymond Morehart reported.

Morehart said the disinterment was authorized by Dr. Joseph A. Geer, the coroner. Morehart and Lancaster Police Chief Sam Hutsler are investigating the 1954 death of Mrs. Jeane Geer and the death last June 28 of Mrs. Constance Geer, 31, the coroner's second wife.

A recent autopsy report listed the cause of Mrs. Constance Geer's death as "pentobarbital and codeine intoxication."

Dr. Geer signed the death certificate of his first wife and reported the cause of death as a heart ailment.

Morehart said: "The chief, Dr. Geer and I thought it necessary as a part of the over-all investigation that an autopsy be conducted on the body of Mrs. Jeane Geer. Dr. Geer authorized it in his capacity as coroner."

The body was sent to the Pathology Department at Ohio State University in Columbus. Morehart said he had no idea how long the autopsy might require.

Favorite Sons Holding Key to Top Nomination

Adlai Stevenson Sets Pace in Poll; Keynote Speech Due Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democrats swung into the formalities of opening their national convention today. A covey of "favorite sons" still held tight to the key votes ardently desired by Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman, top bidders for the presidential nomination.

By all the signs, the favorite sons were of a mind to keep the conclave's big prize in doubt, if possible, right into Thursday's balloting although Stevenson maintained a strong front-running pace.

A bang of the gavel by National Chairman Paul M. Butler officially opened the 32nd nominating meeting in a haze of conflicting claims by candidates.

The schedule of the convention includes a keynote address tonight by Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee.

But the fanfare of the first official sessions in the International Amphitheater in Chicago's stockyards could hardly compete in interest with the downtown tug-of-war for the 684 votes needed to nominate a presidential candidate in balloting to begin Thursday.

There Stevenson vied against a combination of New York Gov. Averell Harriman and former President Harry S. Truman for the support of unpledged state delegates.

Dogging Stevenson's heels also was a group of "favorite son" candidates captained primarily by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate's majority leader.

THE HARRIMAN-Truman combination and the favorite son group had one objective in common—to cut down Stevenson's lead for the nomination to the point where there would be a series of convention ballots. Stevenson's backers have based their victory hopes primarily on a quick decision.

His opponents made minor pro (Please Turn to Page Ten)

'Horse' Type Odds Given On Democrats

CHICAGO (AP)—If conventions were like horse races, you could play the odds and put down a pretty safe bet on the Democratic one opening today.

Trouble is, people are less predictable than horses.

Here are the odds, based on past performance:

The convention will last five days, barring a big row over the nominee. They've ranged from 2 to 16 days since 1832.

The ballot on which the candidate will be nominated would be the 12th if the percentages held steady.

The Democrats have nominated 17 of their 31 candidates, starting with Andrew Jackson, on the first ballot.

But the others took anywhere from 2 to 103 (in 1923, when John W. Davis was named). That's what brings the average up. There were 46 rollcalls before Woodrow Wilson got the nomination in 1912 and 44 before James M. Cox made it in 1920.

Lately the Democrats have taken less time naming their candidates. Not since Franklin D. Roosevelt elbowed John Nance Garner aside in 1932 have they taken as many as four ballots.

Litterbug Showers Road With Money

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A litterbug with a slightly different attitude was taken to a local hospital for observation after he was seen tossing pieces of green paper from his car.

Police said William Clark, 39, had torn up about $200 to $300 in $20 bills and another $400 in travelers' checks.

Officers said the only explanation he gave was that he quit his job as a fountain clerk at a Hollywood drive-in three days ago and was "feeling bad."

Only Second Shots To Be Given

Last Free Polio Clinic Here Set for Tuesday

The last chance to get those second free shots of Salk vaccine here will come at the polio clinic, to be held Tuesday from 10 a. m. until noon, in Fellowship Hall of Grace Methodist Church.

This was emphasized at the Health Department Monday when the list of helpers was completed Monday.

The government is to furnish the vaccine and physicians are to administer it without charge.

Assisting will be two nurses, Mrs. Richard Patton, and Mrs. Robert Wise; two typists, Mrs. Darrell Brown and Mrs. Ted Yoakum; three guides, Tom Mark, Rollo Marchant and George (Bud) Naylor.

Ohio's Judicial System Said Ancient Now

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's "antiquated" judicial system should be modernized through the "fact-finding arm of the Ohio Judicial Council," says Willard D. Campbell, Republican candidate for chief justice of the state supreme court.

The council is comprised of 15 jurists and attorneys and presided over by Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court.

"In shocking contrast to its advancement in every other field of endeavor, Ohio trails most states in judicial reform," Campbell said Sunday.

"The remedy for the present confusion in our courts is not entirely that of increased salaries and supplying ample retirement," he added. "The real remedy is to revamp and bring up to date the fundamentals and essentials of a court system that was established more than a century ago."

Campbell, former Guernsey County Common Pleas Court judge and former state senator, addressed a group of Washington County businessmen at nearby Hervida Men's Camp.

A letter received by the Record-Herald from Congressman James G. Polk of this sixth Ohio district, calls attention to a recent citation of merit in work accomplished to Miss Mary Irene Parrett, a native of Fayette County who is chief of the Congressional Inquiries Unit of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Miss Parrett who has been in Washington D. C. for many years has a number of relatives in this county, the nearest one being an aunt, Miss Hattie Pinkerton who for years has been identified with the Fayette County rural school system as a special investigator in child welfare work.

Recently Rep. E. A. Cederberg of Michigan spoke before Congress calling attention to the award made by the Department of Agriculture to one of its branches of which the Congressional Inquiries is a part. The award is a part of the William A. Jump Memorial Foundation citations.

Rep. Cederberg lavishly praised the unit which Miss Parrett heads as being one with which congressional offices frequently comes in contact and explained that "This branch is the traffic manager for our congressional inquiries and I sometimes marvel at the expeditious manner in which requested material is dispatched to our offices for reference use, for use as speech material and for use in answering letters from our constituents making specific and often complicated requests for agricultural information."

The citation declared that the award was "for transmitting information about Department services and the results of its work to members of Congress and the public with outstanding efficiency and marked initiative, and exemplary teamwork."

At the hall to give information will be Miss Ilo Larrimer, Mrs. John Leland, Mrs. M. Grove Davis and Mrs. Dwight Coffman.

Mrs. William Junk is to be the hostess and Mrs. Jane Ferneau is to give out the favors to the youngsters.

The names of the physicians were not announced.

This will be the third free polio clinic held here and it is only to give the second shots to those who received their first shots at one of the two previous clinics, it was made plain at the Health Department.

It was estimated that about 325 boys and girls, from 1 to 20 years old, have received their first shots but not their second. There also may be a few expectant mothers, who also are eligible to the free inoculations.

The Health Department and the Fayette County Medical Assn. are sponsoring the clinics jointly.

It was stressed after last Friday's meeting of Dr. B. V. D. Scott, county health commissioner, and members of Memorial Hospital staff, that this would be the last free clinic. Plans for the third clinic were worked out at this meeting.

It also was emphasized that no first shots—only second shots—would be administered at the third and last clinic Tuesday.

From now on, it was explained, the Salk vaccine shots will have to be given by the physicians in their offices—at the customary fee. It was said, too, that physicians are now getting the vaccine for general use.

Second free shots already have been given to 472 boys and girls up to 20 years of age. There is, however, no official record of the number who have been immunized by physicians in their offices, but health officials here said they thought a "good many" had been.

White House Plans Silence This Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, moved today to forestall all requests for comment "on anything that happens or is said in Chicago this week" at the Democratic National Convention.

Just back from a two-week vacation, Hagerty said "I don't expect to have anything to say on anything that happens or is said in Chicago this week."

Hagerty announced that Eisenhower will not hold a news conference this week.

He declined to say why, but the reason apparently is the Democratic powwow.

Harry, Eleanor See Civil Rights Plank Pleasing All

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Harry Truman and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt believe the 1956 Democratic party's platform plank on civil rights will be one which will satisfy both North and South.

Truman said today he has been "assured" the plank will be one "all Democrats can support."

"It may get Southerners a little but they'll support it," Truman added. "The South will not bolt again. They've had too many lessons about that."

The widow of the former President, backing Adlai E. Stevenson for the party's presidential nomination, made an unscheduled half hour visit last night before the 16-member drafting group now hammering out a preliminary draft of the 1956 platform.

It was not a public session, but newsmen outside heard delegates applaud her talk.

One of them said later she had expressed "hope there would be no civil rights plank that would be unacceptable to any delegate." That presumably would mean the statement of party aims would not include any reference to the Supreme Court decision banning racial segregation in public schools.

Ohio Delegation Expected To Stick with Gov. Lausche

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio delegates here for the Democratic convention opening today said they stand firm for Gov. Frank J. Lausche as "favorite son."

Sentiment disclosed in an Associated Press poll indicated failure for a "dump Lausche" move by Mayor Frank Krzyan of Youngstown, unsuccessful candidate for the gubernatorial nomination last May.

Krzyan proposed that a caucus go on record for immediate release from a pledge by 66 of Ohio's 70 delegates to vote for nomination of Lausche on the first convention ballot.

Lausche declined comment on the move. The five-term governor, Democratic nominee for U. S. senator in the Nov. 6 election, said jokingly that his presidential nomination was "a long shot."

Lausche said he would not spurn the presidential nomination but he remained non-committal on the vice presidency. Asked if he would accept the No. 2 spot, Lausche reported:

"When that bridge faces me I will take a good look at it to see how strong it is."

As to his chances of receiving the presidential nomination, Lausche said yesterday his chances are not what you would call strong. With a wink and a demonstration of his wry sense of humor, the Ohio governor said:

"Five months ago I believed my chances were nil. When Kefauver made his declaration, I decided they were less than nil."

"Following President Truman's statement, my optimism has risen and I now feel that my chances are negligible."

Lausche said he was not sure if he was concerned about Truman's drive on behalf of Harriman, Stevenson didn't show it.

Favorite Sons Holding Key to Top Nomination

Adlai Stevenson Sets Pace in Poll; Keynote Speech Due Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democrats swung into the formalities of opening their national convention today. A covey of "favorite sons" still held tight to the key votes ardently desired by Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman, top bidders for the presidential nomination.

By all the signs, the favorite sons were of a mind to keep the conclave's big prize in doubt, if possible, right into Thursday's balloting although Stevenson maintained a strong front-running pace.

A bang of the gavel by National Chairman Paul M. Butler officially opened the 32nd nominating meeting in a haze of conflicting claims by candidates.

The schedule of the convention includes a keynote address tonight by Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee.

But the fanfare of the first official sessions in the International Amphitheatre in Chicago's stockyards could hardly compete in interest with the downtown tug-of-war for the 686½ votes needed to nominate a presidential candidate in balloting to begin Thursday.

There Stevenson vied against a combination of New York Gov. Averell Harriman and former President Harry S. Truman for the support of unpledged state delegates.

Dogging Stevenson's heels also was a group of "favorite son" candidates captained primarily by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate's majority leader.

THE HARRIMAN-Truman combination and the favorite son group had one objective in common—to cut down Stevenson's lead for the nomination to the point where there would be a series of convention ballots. Stevenson's backers have based their victory hopes primarily on a quick decision.

'Horse' Type Odds Given On Democrats

CHICAGO (AP) — If conventions were like horse races, you could play the odds and put down a pretty safe bet on the Democratic one opening today.

Trouble is, people are less predictable than horses.

Here are the odds, based on past performance:

The convention will last five days, barring a big row over the nominee. They've ranged from 2 to 16 days since 1832.

The ballot on which the candidate will be nominated would be the 12th if the percentages held steady.

The Democrats have nominated 17 of their 31 candidates, starting with Andrew Jackson, on the first ballot.

But the others took anywhere from 2 to 103 (in 1923, when John W. Davis was named). That's what brings the average up. There were 46 rollcalls before Woodrow Wilson got the nomination in 1912 and 44 before James M. Cox made it in 1920.

Lately the Democrats have taken less time naming their candidates. Not since Franklin D. Roosevelt edged John Nance Garner aside in 1932 have they taken as many as four ballots.

Litterbug Showers Road With Money

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A litterbug with a slightly different attitude was taken to a local hospital for observation after he was seen tossing pieces of green paper from his car.

Police said William Clark, 39, had torn up about $200 to $300 in $20 bills and another $400 in travelers' checks.

Officers said the only explanation he gave was that he quit his job as a fountain clerk at a Hollywood drive-in three days ago and was "feeling bad."

Today's News in Brief

Hurricane Betsy Howls in Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The east coast of Florida was placed on hurricane watch today as Betsy, now ripping through the southern Bahamas with 110-mile winds, continued her steady advance toward the U. S. mainland.

Gordon Dunn, chief hurricane forecaster in Miami, said: "The storm's present course would bring it somewhere on the east coast of Florida by Tuesday afternoon."

At noon, Betsy was slightly more than 500 miles to the southeast of Miami, moving northwest at 19 miles an hour.

Hurricane Betsy already had killed one person and caused damage in some parts of Puerto Rico.

Boiling thunder clouds spawned tornadoes and isolated cloudbursts over the U. S. Midwest today.

Heavy thunderstorms lashed the Mississippi and Ohio River valleys with tornadoes in Indiana at Monticello and Logansport.

No injuries were reported in the wake of the storms, but damage was widespread.

Windows were blown out throughout Logansport, a town of 21,000. The storm also knocked down trees and left the city without power.

Violent winds that hit during a thunderstorm in Mokena, Ill., blew down three tents last night at the community's three-day carnival. One man was injured.

A severe thunderstorm accompanied by high winds hit the northern suburbs of Chicago last night, flooding streets, felling trees and plunging several areas into darkness.

One of the heaviest falls was reported at South Bend, Ind., where more than two inches fell overnight.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—It was a tippler's delight in Portland over the weekend as a price war broke out in the city's bars.

The booze bonanza showed signs of ending, though, when the state liquor commission invited all of those engaged in the price slashing to a meeting today. But while it lasted, you could get a healthy snort of whisky in a downtown emporium for two-bits.

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Old Soldier Walter Williams appeared to be fully recovered today from his latest illness and said he is looking forward to his 114th birthday next Nov. 12.

"I'm starting all over and there will be only 14 candles on the cake," the Confederate veteran said.

"I've got not time to go to the hospital. I'm too darn busy," he said, adding that he wanted to read the big stack of mail he received during his illness.

A siege of drowsy gave him a few bad days recently.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—Harry Ralston, local Moose Lodge governor, pitched in to help bartenders serve customers celebrating the lodge's sixth birthday.

He was doing OK until a customer asked for a "screwdriver," a new drink made with vodka. It stumped him for a few seconds until he walked to a storage drawer and produced a small screwdriver.

"No," the customer said. "It's a drink."

"Oh!" Ralston said. "I thought you were having trouble with your car and needed a screwdriver."

Irrepressible Force—Meets Immovable Object

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—Something had to snap when Milwaukee's Bob Buhl opposed Brooklyn's Roger Craig in the opener of their National League series in Ebbets Field.

Buhl had won five in a row against Brooklyn and Craig had been unbeaten in 10 Ebbets Field starts since joining the Dodgers a year ago.

Neither pitcher was around at the finish but Buhl got credit for his sixth straight over Brooklyn to make his record 14-4. Craig lost his sixth game of the campaign. He had won 10.

DKG Delegate Is Back Home

Society Expansion One of Highlights

Mrs. Ralph Child, president of the Washington C. H. chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, today was back from New Orleans where she saw the organization expand from national to international in scope during the convention.

Delta Kappa Gamma, society made up principally of school teachers and women associated with education, selected for its first international focus: "Uniting Women Educators of the World in Spiritual Fellowship."

Mrs. Child represented the Washington C. H. chapter as its official delegate at the convention, but she was accompanied on the trip to New Orleans by two other teachers, Miss Gladys Melson of the Washington C. H. High School faculty and Mrs. Elton B. Elliott of the Bloomingburg High School faculty, and Miss Chloe McGlinchay of Columbus, one of the founders of the organization in Ohio.

The four made the trip to New Orleans by car, but Mrs. Child returned by plane. The other three, she said, were returning more leisurely to take in some of the places of interest in the deep South along the way.

Mrs. Edna McGuire conducted the convention meetings as the last president of Delta Kappa Gamma as a national society.

THE FIRST president of the society as an international organization, Mrs. Child said, is Miss Margaret Boys of Steubenville. She is the Ohio director on the board of the National Education Assn.

The new officers were elected and installed on Saturday, the last day of the convention. Representatives from Delta Kappa Gamma chapters in all of the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada were at the convention, Mrs. Child said.

The national executive secretary, Mrs. Margaret Stroh of Washington, D. C., retired after 14 years in the office and the national treasurer, Miss Bernetta Minkwitz, announced that she would retire in 1957 at the conclusion of the coming biennial.

The next convention of the organization, the first as a full-fledged international society, is to be held in Minneapolis in 1958.

While the business packed the convention program, Mrs. Child said time was taken off to devote much of one day to seeing the sights of New Orleans.

Treat Dogs Like People, Is Plea

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Pets can suffer heat prostration just as well as humans, says the Massachusetts Veterinary Assn.

Never, the association says, lock an animal in a car standing for hours in the sun, or in tightly-closed apartments and hot, stuffy rooms. Water should be made available to them at all times.

If the animal shows signs of severe panting, weakness and apparent helplessness it's an indication of approaching prostration. To combat this serious danger, the association says, the animal's body should be swabbed with cool water.

If the pet's discomfort is not quickly eased, death can follow quickly.

Today's News in Brief

Hurricane Betsy Howls in Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—The east coast of Florida was placed on hurricane watch today as Betsy, now ripping through the southern Bahamas with 110-mile winds, continued her steady advance toward the U. S. mainland.

Gordon Dunn, chief hurricane forecaster in Miami, said: "The storm's present course would bring it somewhere on the east coast of Florida by Tuesday afternoon."

At noon, Betsy was slightly more than 500 miles to the south-east of Miami, moving northwest at 19 miles an hour.

Hurricane Betsy already had killed one person and caused damage in some parts of Puerto Rico. Boiling thunder clouds spawned tornadoes and isolated cloudbursts over the U. S. Midwest today.

Heavy thunderstorms lashed the Mississippi and Ohio River valleys with tornadoes in Indiana at Monticello and Logansport.

No injuries were reported in the wake of the storms, but damage was widespread.

Windows were blown out throughout Logansport, a town of 21,000. The storm also knocked down trees and left the city without power.

Violent winds that hit during a thunderstorm in Mokena, Ill., blew down three tents last night at the community's three-day carnival. One man was injured.

A severe thunderstorm accompanied by high winds hit the northern suburbs of Chicago last night, flooding streets, felling trees and plunging several areas into darkness.

One of the heaviest falls was reported at South Bend, Ind., where more than two inches fell overnight.

PORTLAND, Ore. (P)—It was a tippler's delight in Portland over the weekend as a price war broke out in the city's bars.

The booze bonanza showed signs of ending, though, when the state liquor commission invited all of those engaged in the price slashing to a meeting today. But while it lasted, you could get a healthy snort of whisky in a downtown emporium for two-bits.

FRANKLIN, Tex. (P)—Old Soldier Walter Williams appeared to be fully recovered today from his latest illness and said he is looking forward to his 114th birthday next Nov. 12.

"I'm starting all over and there will be only 14 candles on the cake," the Confederate veteran said.

"I've got not time to go to the hospital. I'm too darn busy," he said, adding that he wanted to read the big stack of mail he received during his illness.

A siege of drowsy gave him a few bad days recently.

TOKYO (P)—An earthquake shook central Japan before dawn today but caused no damage, the Japanese weather bureau announced.

LONDON (P)—The death of Sir Albert George Allen, legal adviser to the Duke of Windsor at the time of his abdication as King Edward VIII, was announced today. He died Friday.

TOKYO (P)—Pyongyang radio announced today that the Communist North Korean government has ordered the fifth cut since the Korean War in retail prices of consumer goods. The broadcast said the reductions, effective Tuesday, would range from 15 to 50 per cent.

ALGIERS (P)—Twenty French soldiers were slain and another

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (P)—Harry Ralston, local Moose Lodge governor, pitched in to help bartenders serve customers celebrating the lodge's sixth birthday.

He was doing OK until a customer asked for a "screwdriver," a new drink made with vodka. It stumped him for a few seconds until he walked to a storage drawer and produced a small screwdriver.

"No," the customer said. "It's a drink."

"Oh!" Ralston said. "I thought you were having trouble with your car and needed a screwdriver."

Irrepressible Force—Meets Immovable Object

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (P)—Something had to snap when Milwaukee's Bob Buhl opposed Brooklyn's Roger Craig in the opener of their National League series in Ebbets Field.

Buhl had won five in a row against Brooklyn and Craig had been unbeaten in 10 Ebbets Field starts since joining the Dodgers a year ago.

Neither pitcher was around at the finish but Buhl got credit for his sixth straight over Brooklyn to make his record 14-4. Craig lost his sixth game of the campaign. He had won 10.

Society Expansion One of Highlights

Mrs. Ralph Child, president of the Washington C. H. chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, today was back from New Orleans where she saw the organization expand from national to international in scope during the convention.

Delta Kappa Gamma, society made up principally of school teachers and women associated with education, selected for its first international focus: "Uniting Women Educators of the World in Spiritual Fellowship."

Mrs. Child represented the Washington C. H. chapter as its official delegate at the convention, but she was accompanied on the trip to New Orleans by two other teachers, Miss Gladys Melson of the Washington C. H. High School faculty and Mrs. Elton B. Elliott of the Bloomingburg High School faculty, and Miss Chloe McGlinchay of Columbus, one of the founders of the organization in Ohio.

The four made the trip to New Orleans by car, but Mrs. Child returned by plane. The other three, she said, were returning more leisurely to take in some of the places of interest in the deep South along the way.

Mrs. Edna McGuire conducted the convention meetings as the last president of Delta Kappa Gamma as a national society.

THE FIRST president of the society as an international organization, Mrs. Child said, is Miss Margaret Boys of Steubenville. She is the Ohio director on the board of the National Education Assn.

The new officers were elected and installed on Saturday, the last day of the convention.

Representatives from Delta Kappa Gamma chapters in all of the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada were at the convention, Mrs. Child said.

The national executive-secretary, Dr. M. Margaret Stroh of Washington, D. C., retired after 14 years in the office and the national treasurer, Miss Bernetta Minkwitz, announced that she would retire in 1957 at the conclusion of the coming biennial.

The next convention of the organization, the first as a full-fledged international society, is to be held in Minneapolis in 1958.

While the business packed the convention program, Mrs. Child said time was taken off to devote much of one day to seeing the sights of New Orleans.

Treat Dogs Like People, Is Plea

BOSTON, Mass. (P)—Pets can suffer heat prostration just as well as humans, says the Massachusetts Veterinary Assn.

Never, the association says, lock an animal in a car standing for hours in the sun, or in tightly-closed apartments and hot, stuffy rooms. Water should be made available to them at all times.

If the animal shows signs of severe panting, weakness and apparent helplessness it's an indication of approaching prostration. To combat this serious danger, the association says, the animal's body should be swabbed with cool water.

If the pet's discomfort is not quickly eased, death can follow quickly.

British To Lead Jet Plane Race until 1960, Yank Says

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—American and British plane makers chalk up a score apiece today in their contest to capture the transatlantic jet airliner business.

The British are first in flying their new turbojet Britannia across the pond today on a selling mission here. It's due to go into commercial service between New York and London next year for the British Overseas Airways Corp.

But the Americans can claim a selling victory with this same BOAC. Its chief, Basil Smallpeice, sees the Yankees as the long-run winners.

He says the Britannia should be tops for the transatlantic race—the keener in the highly competitive airline industry—until 1960.

After that, he says, American made jets will outpace the slower British craft and grab off all the passengers. So he wants the British Transport Ministry to authorize his company to pay out some 100 million scarce American dollars for Yankee jets.

The British sent a team of experts here to look at both Boeing and Douglas jets. Between them these two American companies already have orders for some 200 long-range jet airliners. Convair has orders for about 50 medium-range jet airliners. Convair has orders for about 50 medium-range jet transports. And Lockheed has orders for around 130 turboprop craft.

The race to capture the transatlantic traffic is so keen because it is so lucrative. Both American and foreign flag air carriers are having their biggest year yet and expect the volume of overseas traffic to go even higher next year.

Speedy jets are expected to take over most of the trade in the 60s.

Steel Consumption Record Is Predicted for This Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel consumption the remainder of this year should exceed that of the corresponding period of 1955 when records were broken, "Steel" magazine said today.

Pointing out that orders for steel continued to come in while consumers lived off inventories during the five-week strike of the steelworkers, the magazine said demand would outstrip production the rest of the year.

The supply problem is complicated by the question of how long it will take the mills to get back into full production. The order backlog piled up by producers of durable goods is 18 per cent greater in dollar volume than that of a year ago, the magazine said.

The trade weekly said increased steel prices resulting from the new contract with steelworkers would cost metalworking companies between 275 and 300 million dollars this year.

It said the price increase, which averaged $8.50 a ton, was smaller than expected, but added that in order to offset increased costs, extras may be raised as they were last year when the base price boost was $7.35 a ton.

"Increases in steel's base price in 1957 and 1958 will be lower than this year's because the labor package will cost less—about 16 cents an hour," the magazine said. "Best guesses for price boosts in the next two years are between $6 and $6.50 a ton."

Production of steel last week was at 52.5 per cent of rated capacity, a jump of 33 points over the previous week when only mills not affected by the strike were in operation. Production stood at 95.5 per cent of capacity before the strike started.

"Steel's" price composite on finished steel jumped $6.48 to $137.75 a net ton during the week ended Aug. 8. The composite on steelmaking scrap moved up $1.63 to $54.83 a gross ton.

Tunisia Plans Ban On Extra Wives

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Tunisians have less than five months left if they want to take an extra wife.

A new law limits men to one wife each, places the minimum age of a bride at 15 and permits divorce only by court action. It is effective Jan. 1.

The law does not nullify plural marriages already in existence. Under the old Moslem religious code, the faithful can take up to four wives provided all are equally treated. Divorce is accomplished by the husband repeating "I divorce thee" three times to the wife being ousted.

"And Cain went out from the presence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden. And Cain knew his wife; and she conceived and bare Enoch; and he builded a city and called the name of the city after the name of his son Enoch."

The question has always arisen, who was this woman that Cain married. I believe that Cain found his wife among the so-called cave dwellers; people, very little above animals... people, or animal's in human form... without a soul.

The bones of these people or animals have been dug up over the world, and the bones are very much like present-day man. Scientists place these strange beings or animals back thousands of years ago; but I believe the first real human beings were Adam and Eve, for the Bible says so.

Getting back to Cain: I believe that his wife was one of these animal-like females which the scientists have found in many parts of the world. I'll mention a few of them, such as The Pekin Man or the Neanderthal Man, and following them were the Cro-Magnon peoples, who were also cave-dwellers, but the true man... one with a soul, began with Adam.

I have reconciled the Scientist with the Theologian and both are right.

Cain was a murderer, and we see each generation after him becoming worse and worse until God destroyed them with the flood, and only eight people out of this great multitude were permitted to live.

Man is an inquisitive creature as we know by the attempt to build the Tower of Babel. Now man is going to try building a spaceship to see how things are over on Mars... Will he again be confused and denied the fulfillment of his dreams and ambitions as they were at the building of The Tower of Babel.

keeps your engine powerful, longer

HERE'S WHY:

With non-Boron gasoline, power is lost due to rough deposits and channels burned in valve face.

With Boron gasoline, valves show far fewer deposits, and no burning or channeling. Power stays sealed in.

One big reason your car loses power is deposit build-up on valves. In time, these deposits keep valves from seating properly. Gases of combustion leak out and some of your power is wasted. Then, these gases start to burn deep channels in the valves letting even more power escape! Boron—a great new motor fuel discovery—changes all that! The valves above, taken from test engines, driven the same number of miles in identical cars, show the difference Boron makes. With Boron, valves stay smooth and seat properly. Power stays in your engine where it belongs. Your car keeps delivering full-powered performance for thousands of extra miles.

Get a tankful of Sohio Boron Supreme. Keep using it—and keep your engine powerful longer!

Poet's Corner

LUMINOUS
When my hands are folded close
On my silent breast;
When my eyelids open no more
At Love's sweet behest—
Brush aside the coming tears
From your eyes of gray;
Only think that I am gone
For the nonce away.
Certain as the stars that gleam
Each succeeding night,
You and I shall walk again,
Some empyreal height;
Like the embryo of the seed,
So our souls shall flower
Into immortality.
At the destined hour.
Kiss me lightly on the brow
As a last adieu;
It will be Love's talisman
In yon rendezvous;
Through the lone Gethsemane
Of Death's 'wondering pain,
Only can the captive soul
Heaven's sweet grace attain.

BORON® keeps your engine powerful, longer
HERE'S WHY:
With non-Boron gasoline, power is lost due to rough deposits and channels burned in valve face.
With Boron gasoline, valves show far fewer deposits, and no burning or channeling. Power stays sealed in.
One big reason your car loses power is deposit build-up on valves. In time, these deposits keep valves from seating properly. Gases of combustion leak out and some of your power is wasted. Then, these gases start to burn deep channels in the valves letting even more power escape!
Boron—a great new motor fuel discovery—changes all that! The valves above, taken from test engines, driven the same number of miles in identical cars, show the difference Boron makes. With Boron, valves stay smooth and seat properly. Power stays in your engine where it belongs. Your car keeps delivering full-powered performance for thousands of extra miles.
Get a tankful of Sohio Boron Supreme. Keep using it—and keep your engine powerful longer!

Expanding Opportunities In Science Today

We are told that there is new interest being aroused among Fayette County young men who are giving serious attention to their plans for college or university training. Many are looking toward a scientific education.

Graduates of universities and colleges across our nation, who this year have received their degrees in engineering or science, have before them a limitless vista of man's progress through technological gains.

Recent breakthroughs in scientific knowledge have brought the world to the brink of an understanding of the very laws of nature — the composition of matter — so the scientists say.

This new crop of young scientists and engineers, spurred by the progress already made, are ready to assume key roles in a future that will pale even the imaginary world of science fiction.

There is only one barrier to the discoveries that will make a fuller life for all the world's people: lack of numbers in trained manpower. That alone can prolong the solution to the problems that limit us.

There is strong evidence that the American public is becoming more and more aware of the need for engineers and scientists to unlock new doors of knowledge. A recent public opinion survey conducted by the Aircraft Industries Association points up this consciousness of the necessity of urging our youth to take up these exciting careers. The public was asked: "In view of the shortages of engineers and scientists, should algebra and geometry (as the doorways to higher mathematics) be required high school subjects for all boys?" The replies: 77 per cent said "yes"; only 12 per cent said "no," and the balance had no opinion.

The initial responsibility for encouraging youth to take up engineering and scientific careers is as intimate and close as the family itself. Parents who would insure their children a good share of the future should carefully weigh the advantages of promoting their natural interest in engineering and science.

The aircraft industry offers one of the most challenging futures, with its ever widening fields of engineering and science. The challenge of developing the aircraft and missiles of the next decade embraces nearly every form of science and engineering. The aircraft industry represents a marriage of the highest skills and talents in these fields.

Laboratories of many kinds in big industrial organizations along other lines also are opening the doors to new and great opportunities in many phases of our future existence.

The drama and adventure in scientific developments today provide a solid basis for youth interest.

It seems reasonably certain that tomorrow belongs to those who are willing to become frontiersmen in the expanding advantages and opportunities of science to day.

She Dreams in Technicolor

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Jaye P. Morgan, who looks like a vanilla ice cream cone with green eyes, has an odd habit. She often dreams in technicolor.

"I dream all night long," said Miss Morgan, who in little more than a year has bounced to a top spot among the nation's lady song belters.

"About 20 per cent of my dreams—I call them my $5 special—are in technicolor. Those in black and white are just marked down 98-cent dreams."

Jaye, one of seven children of a vaudeville performer, was born in a log cabin in Colorado to which her parents had been temporarily forced to retire during the last depression.

She was named Mary, picked up the nickname—"Jaye P."—after she was elected class treasurer in high school.

Jaye started her stage career at 3, singing, "When They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree," and left its echoes in practically every small vaudeville theater west of Chicago.

Last year she sold two million records, earned some $250,000. This summer she filled in Eddie Fisher's NBC network spot in an act with four of her brothers—Charles, Bob, Duke and Dick.

Jaye has done so well that the network is reported trying to find a permanent spot for her this fall. She hopes so. After two decades of itinerant show world life, she'd like a permanent place to hang her nylons.

"My husband and I just finished decorating an apartment," she said. "It's the first real home we've had, one with our own furniture. It's a wonderful feeling to look around an apartment and know everything in it is something you picked out yourself and belongs to you."

But about those dreams.

"I don't like to be alone at night," said Jaye. "When I'm alone I sleep with a light on. I'm terrified of the dark, when I'm by myself."

"I sleep 9 hours or more at a time, and I dream all the time. I don't know why I sometimes dream in technicolor. The only other person I know of who does is Lena Horne."

"When my dreams are in color, they are usually vivid reds, blues and purples."

"It's a funny thing about my dreams. I usually can control them. If I wake up from a bad dream, I can go back to sleep and change the dream to a happy ending."

"I've always wanted to know what my dreams meant, but I am afraid to go to a psychiatrist for fear I'd find out too much about myself," said Jaye, smiling.

"I feel normal, and I want to stay that way."

A Look at the Candidates

By George Sokolsky

The Democrats will have a more difficult time choosing a vice president than the Republicans. Harold Stassen fixed it for the Republicans. He has practically made it impossible for anyone to run against Richard Nixon, without taking on guilt by association with Stassen.

Even if Sherman Adams were nominated, it would look like a double-cross and would give the conservative members of the party an excuse for staying home on election day.

Many Democrats assume that Estes Kefauver has made a deal with Adlai Stevenson and that as part of that deal, Kefauver will run for vice president. That would annoy Harry Truman but he would not display his annoyance in public.

It would also raise the ire of Carmine de Sapio. But no practical politician discounts the Stevenson-Kefauver deal and its probable effects on the vice presidential nomination.

Two Roman Catholics are in the vice presidential contest, Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Mayor Robert Wagner of New York. Since Al Smith ran for president in 1928 and was badly defeated by Herbert Hoover, it has been taken for granted that no Roman Catholic could be elected to the presidency because of bigotry. Political prognosticators suggest that such bigotry and bias have died down and that a Catholic could now be elected to high office. As in no state does anyone vote separately for the vice president, and as the assumption has been general in both parties that Eisenhower will be elected, it would appear that this might be a good year to test the strength or weakness of a Roman Catholic candidate.

Besides, the two who are mentioned have nothing to lose. Kennedy will remain in the Senate if he is defeated; Wagner will continue as mayor of New York if he is defeated. Kennedy's father, the former ambassador to Great Britain, is an enormously rich man and, at a time when the Democrats are short of money, there would be an advantage to latching on to the Kennedy exchequer. Also, Kennedy is fairly popular and has displayed some literary talents.

Wagner is mayor of a city of 8 million people, as difficult and complex a position as any man can find. Why he should want to give that up to spend four years pounding a gavel in the Senate can only be explained by the American disease known as Potomac fever, which, once it strikes a man, never leaves him until he goes mad or dies. Potomac fever is symptomatic of an obsession to become president of the United States of whom there have been 34 in 167 years.

This year, the Democrats have plenty of candidates for all positions, despite the fact that it has been assumed that President Eisenhower could not fail for reelection. Such an assumption is always too optimistic in American politics where anything can happen at the last moment. Therefore public figures, who have nothing to lose, are willing to take a chance on the law of probabilities and also to take advantage of the nationwide publicity that comes from being a candidate for president or vice president.

One of the aspirants for the vice presidency is Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota who is regarded in most places as a radical but who has too much knowledge of history and economics to be anything of the kind. He is an educated man who apparently finds it possible to compromise with his knowledge and training for political advantage. This is supposed to be a practical way to operate in politics. Humphrey could, in a position of responsibility, exhibit the intellectual discipline which is not always visible in his senatorial activities.

Most of the vice presidential aspirants in 1956 on the Democratic side have 1960 in view because it is assumed in Democratic quarters that, with Eisenhower unavailable, the Republicans will not be able to win in 1960. However, that is a long way off.

The real difficulty that both parties face is the meaningless "middle-of-the-road" concept which makes no political sense and therefore the election is reduced to a "cult of personality." As it stands today, both parties are without basic philosophies. Sherman Adams' effort to harpoon so-called intellectuals into the Republican party assumes that there are none here. What Mr. Adams is seeking, in the idiomatic phrase, eggheads, is not intellectuals but socialists who belong in the ADA.

Carbon monoxide, poisoning, as you all know, can be fatal. For this reason, doctors and safety experts for years have warned of the dangers of running automobile engines in closed garages.

Yet automobile exhaust may be a health hazard even in the open air.

Two Reports

Two investigations, one conducted by the Armour Research Foundation of the Illinois Institute of Technology here in Chicago, and the other at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, seem to indicate a possible connection between exhaust and cancer.

Scientists at Armour showed an extract of gasoline engine exhaust contained tumor-producing substances. In the study, the skin of mice was painted with the extract.

Reports state that 76 per cent of the mice thus painted developed tumors.

A. Cincinnati, Dr. Clarence A. Mills studied the effects of motor exhaust fumes in lung cancer.

Permanent Danger

He warns that each non-fatal exposure to polluted air as a rule causes permanent damage to respiratory systems. He says it produces irreversible and irreparable cell damage in the respiratory system which accumulates through the years with repetition of the exposure episodes.

It's likely, he adds, that repeated or at times even isolated exposures may eventually lead to accumulated cellular changes of serious importance.

Necessary Precautions

To eliminate much of the danger, Dr. Mills suggests the use of effective after-burned type exhaust mufflers or improved combustion in the cylinder chambers of the motors. In Los Angeles, where the smog problem is of great importance, he says such mufflers are being very seriously contemplated.

These studies seem to indicate that we must re-evaluate the air pollution safety standards. We can't simply consider the immediate effects such pollution has on the population. We've got to look at the long range picture and take the necessary precautions.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T. A.: I am 31 years old and have diabetes. Will this disease prevent my having a child?

Answer: Before modern methods for controlling diabetes were devised, it was difficult for a diabetic person to become pregnant. However, with these new methods diabetes will not prevent you from becoming pregnant.

CHICAGO (AP)—The great illusion at the Democratic convention is that there is a big difference between Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Harriman on national issues. There isn't. On most they look like twins.

Harriman himself has helped create this illusion by denouncing the "moderation" of Stevenson and of President Eisenhower too. He has done this for one of two reasons:

1. He thinks there is a difference or 2. He thinks it necessary to make himself sound like a political hot-rodder in order to win the Democratic nomination and then the presidential election.

The best way to judge Stevenson and Harriman — on any differences or similarities between them — is on where they say they stand on the issues. Under that kind of examination they look alike.

Both favor public development of water power and natural resources. Both favor public development of water power and natural resources.

Labor — Both favor changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and both are critical of the right-to-work laws — in some states — which forbid union shops.

Foreign policy — Both favor sizable economic aid to foreign countries. Stevenson suggests the United States and Russia join in giving economic help through the United Nations instead of separately as now. Harriman suggests a new international agency to do the job with the United States and Russia as members.

Both, of course, were highly critical of the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign affairs.

Immigration — Both would make changes in the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act of 1952 to permit more people to enter this country.

Farm problems — Both favor 90 per cent of parity support prices and the soil bank plan. Harriman would additionally go along with a food stamp plan for needy families, a world conference on food resources. Both favor liberal farm credit.

Health and medical care — Both back away from the idea of a federal health insurance program. They talked of government help for private insurance plans.

Taxes — Stevenson is against a general tax reduction — if there is a budget surplus — until consideration is given to using the surplus to reduce the public debt and to national needs like housing, schools and lower taxes for low-income families.

A careful check with Harriman's office turned up no evidence he has had anything to say about national tax problems.

Housing — Harriman's office could produce nothing from its files to show he had any plans on housing. Stevenson talked of housing problems in pretty general terms.

Humphrey could, in a position of responsibility, exhibit the intellectual discipline which is not always visible in his senatorial activities.

Most of the vice presidential aspirants in 1956 on the Democratic side have 1960 in view because it is assumed in Democratic quarters that, with Eisenhower unavailable, the Republicans will not be able to win in 1960. However, that is a long way off.

The real difficulty that both parties face is the meaningless "middle-of-the-road" concept which makes no political sense and therefore the election is reduced to a "cult of personality." As it stands today, both parties are without basic philosophies. Sherman Adams' effort to har-

Diet and Health

By HERMA N. BUNDESEN

Carbon monoxide, poisoning, as you all know, can be fatal. For this reason, doctors and safety experts for years have warned of the dangers of running automobile engines in closed garages.

Yet, automobile exhaust may be a health hazard even in the open air.

Two Reports

Two investigations, one conducted by the Armour Research Foundation of the Illinois Institute of Technology here in Chicago, and the other at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, seem to indicate a possible connection between exhaust and cancer.

Scientists at Armour showed an extract of gasoline engine exhaust contained tumor-producing substances. In the study, the skin of mice was painted with the extract.

Reports state that 76 per cent of the mice thus painted developed tumors.

A Cincinnati, Dr. Clarence A. Mills studied the effects of motor exhaust fumes in lung cancer.

Permanent Danger

He warns that each non-fatal exposure to polluted air as a rule causes permanent damage to respiratory systems. He says it produces irreversible and irreparable cell damage in the respiratory system which accumulates through the years with repetition of the exposure episodes.

Motor Exhaust Fumes Hazard to Health

It's likely, he adds, that repeated or at times even isolated exposures may eventually lead to accumulated cellular changes of serious importance.

Necessary Precautions

To eliminate much of the danger, Dr. Mills suggests the use of effective after-burned type exhaust mufflers or improved combustion in the cylinder chambers of the motors. In Los Angeles, where the smog problem is of great importance, he says such mufflers are being very seriously contemplated.

These studies seem to indicate that we must re-evaluate the air pollution safety standards. We can't simply consider the immediate effects such pollution has on the population. We've got to look at the long range picture and take the necessary precautions.

Answer: Before modern methods for controlling diabetes were devised, it was difficult for a diabetic person to become pregnant. However, with these new methods diabetes will not prevent you from becoming pregnant.

The Nation Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The great illusion at the Democratic convention is that there is a big difference between Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Harriman on national issues.

There isn't. On most they look like twins.

Harriman himself has helped create this illusion by denouncing the "moderation" of Stevenson and of President Eisenhower too. He has done this for one of two reasons:

1. He thinks there is a difference or 2. he thinks it necessary to make himself sound like a political hot-rod in order to win the Democratic nomination and then the presidential election.

The best way to judge Stevenson and Harriman — on any differences or similarities between them — is on where they say they stand on the issues. Under that kind of examination they look alike:

Civil rights — Both are for a careful, gradual carrying out of this community, placement at employment center remains high.

the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation. Both say that they would not use troops or guns. Both proposed a party platform plank backing the court.

Harriman would go one step further than Stevenson: he'd withhold federal aid to segregated schools. Stevenson wouldn't.

Natural resources and power development — Both — and this is a standard Democratic cry — accuse the Eisenhower administration of a "giveaway" of natural resources. Both favor public development of water power and natural resources. Both favor public development of water power and natural resources.

Labor — Both favor changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and both are critical of the right-to-work laws — in some states — which forbid union shops.

Foreign policy — Both favor sizable economic aid to foreign countries. Stevenson suggests the United States and Russia join in giving economic help through the United Nations instead of separately as now. Harriman suggests a new international agency to do the job with the United States and Russia as members.

Both, of course, were highly critical of the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign affairs.

Immigration — Both would make changes in the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act of 1952 to permit more people to enter this country.

Farm problems — Both favor 90 per cent of parity support prices and the soil bank plan. Harriman would additionally go along with a food stamp plan for needy families, a world conference on food resources. Both favor liberal farm credit.

Health and medical care — Both back away from the idea of a federal health insurance program. They talked of government help for private insurance plans.

Taxes — Stevenson is against a general tax reduction — if there is a budget surplus — until consideration is given to using the surplus to reduce the public debt and to national needs like housing and schools and lower taxes for low-income families.

A careful check with Harriman's office turned up no evidence he has had anything to say about national tax problems.

Housing — Harriman's office could produce nothing from its files to show he had any plans on housing. Stevenson talked of housing problems in pretty general terms.

Portsmouth 'Normal' Again After 4 Years of A-Plant

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Portsmouth finds itself back to normal—but on a considerably higher economic level—today as it observes the fourth anniversary of the coming of the giant Portsmouth Area atomic energy plant.

It was just four years ago Sunday—on Aug. 12, 1952—when the southern Ohio area was electrified by the atomic energy commission's announcement that the big plant would be built 20 miles north of here in Pike County.

Construction of the huge gaseous diffusion facility, where fissionable Uranium 235 now is being produced, was virtually completed by the end of last year. All but a tiny handful of the 22,500 construction workers who swarmed over the A-plant site in the fall of 1954 are gone.

Portsmouth's economy, as measured by various business indexes, is off from what it was in 1954 at the construction peak. Then, for month after month, the city led the entire Fourth Federal Reserve District in percentage of increase in business.

But it moves along today on a plateau considerably higher than 1952.

Portsmouth Retail Merchants Assn. gave these comparisons:

Bank debits—In July 1952 they totaled $24,438,600; in July 1956 they totaled $29,710,787.

Postal receipts—In July 1952 they were $32,765, compared with $36,795 last month.

Auto sales—In July 1952, 2,193 cars were sold; in the same 1956 month, 2,300.

The July comparisons on sales tax receipts are out of line because five weeks were figured in 1952 and only four in 1956. But here are the merchants' June comparisons: In June 1952, a total of $117,766; in June 1956, a total of $146,735.

Portsmouth, Chillicothe and Jackson have some surplus housing now that the construction gangs have gone, but local real estate men say it is not "too much."

Only at Waverly was there an over-building fiasco. There the Federal Housing Administration backed the construction of more units than the AEC had predicted would be needed, and there are an estimated 800 vacancies.

Meanwhile, new schools, highways, water and sewage facilities have been built in many parts of the four-county A-plant area which includes Scioto, Ross, Pike and Jackson counties.

Now that the main part of the construction job is over, the AEC found it missed some of its estimates and came close on others.

In August 1952, AEC officials guessed there would be a construction peak of 30,000 workers

Ohioan Offers Plan To Salvage Liner

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—Floyd Dever, 36, a former Navy Seabee and boat builder of nearby Russell's Point, says he has an economical way to raise the sunken Italian ocean liner Andrea Doria, but won't say what it is.

Dever, who designs and builds pleasure craft, said Sunday he had written to the American Hull Insurance Co. of New York, offering to demonstrate the method in the East River there.

He said by using his method the 29,000-ton luxury liner, which now lies in 225 feet of water south of Nantucket Island, could be raised in 90 days.

The Andrea Doria sank July 26 after a collision with the Swedish ship Stockholm.

and permanent operating personnel of 4,000 at the A-plant.

The building peak was reduced to 22,500, helped by new methods and by a history of good labor relations which won the acclaim last winter of U.S. Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

Construction was finished six months ahead of schedule at an estimated cost of 800 million dollars, compared with the original $1,200,000 estimate.

The operating force has been cut to around 2,500 by efficiencies in training and production developed by Goodyear Atomic Corp., which operates the big plant for the government.

Only phase of the original plant yet to be completed is the so-called feed materials plant which will convert highly purified uranium compounds into uranium hexafluoride gas.

It is from the latter gas that the A-plant extracts the fissionable 235 isotope of uranium used for atomic weapons and for scores of peacetime uses, such as power reactors, medical treatment and agricultural and industrial development.

The feed plant, using a few hundred construction workers, is scheduled for completion next June.

Meanwhile, the gigantic A-plant moves along on its U-235 production. The plant's floor space covers 220 acres, uses 32,000 instruments and consumes around 72 million dollars' worth of power each year—more than two-thirds of the electric power consumption in all of Ohio.

Pfc. Glenn Milstead, son of Mrs. Helen Milstead, 1012 Yeoman St., is now in Korea with the U. S. Army. A 1954 graduate of Washington C. H. High School and one of the outstanding tackles of the Lion football team, he entered the service in April of the following year. He took his basic training at Camp Carson, Colo., and specialized training at Ft. Dev, Mass. He was home on a 45-day emergency furlough when his brother, Mickey, was fatally injured in an automobile accident while on his way home on leave from the Navy.

Famed Author Donates $1 For 'Tar and Feather' Fund

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP)—One of the world's famed novelists, Mississippi's William Faulkner, has contributed $1 toward a "tar and feathers" fund for a whisky in former.

In a letter to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Faulkner, of Oxford, Miss., called Mrs. Kayo McClamroch's recent and expensive cafe conversation "a frightening symptom."

He sharply criticized the officers and the informer who nailed the Grenada, Miss., housewife with a $125 fine for illegal possession of liquor.

Mrs. McClamroch, driving home from Memphis, was stopped at Batesville and arrested by a deputy sheriff who was waiting for her with a search warrant. He confiscated her six bottles of whisky.

Earlier that day, Mrs. McClamroch had mentioned to friends during a casual conversation in a Grenada cafe that she was bound for Memphis—the nearest legal liquor point—to buy whisky for a private party.

She told them she had to rush off because she was due back home by 1 o'clock. The arresting deputy complained she was running so far behind schedule he had missed lunch.

Last Monday, a delegation of Batesville citizens took up a collection and presented Mrs. McClamroch with $125—the amount of her fine and court costs.

"I am proud to be a citizen of a county having for our next door neighbor a county in which a hundred loyal citizens have joined to resist and repudiate this same evil in our own land."

Faulkner, no teetotaler himself, said though it was too late for him to help pay the fine, he trusted it was not too late for the tar and feathers fund for the "nameless patriot who informed on the lady."

Eaton Implement Dealer Tells of Gambling Losses

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Floyd Spittler said last night that a former Eaton farm implements dealer, charged with embezzlement and fraudulent representation, claims he lost $80,000 gambling in northern Kentucky.

The man is George Martin, 58, who was arrested in Cleveland last week after having been sought for five months.

Spittler said Martin "probably" will be arraigned here Tuesday. The sheriff declined to estimate how much money may be involved in the alleged embezzlements but said $100,000 "may not be far wrong."

The sheriff said Martin is accused of having taken farmers' notes for implements and telling them he would make their payments. He then would sell the notes, Spittler added, and fail to make the payments.

It's usable horsepower that counts!

Rated horsepower figures don't tell the whole story of truck performance!

Many passenger-car-type engines have to strain at the job of developing power to pull a normal load. They have to "give it all they've got" to move their loads and keep them rolling, cost big money in wear, repair and shortened life.

INTERNATIONAL Truck engines—built for trucks—turn at relatively low rpm—deliver high usable power at normal road speeds. They are part of the all-truck engineering that asks no passenger car component to do a truck job—part of the thinking that builds trucks stronger, to last longer... save you the BIG money in operating and maintenance costs.

Come in and let us give you all the facts!

All-Truck Power Plus Today's Most Modern Truck Features

- Functional, practical, money-saving styling
- Famous driver-designed Comfo-Vision cab

Ohioan Offers Plan To Salvage Liner

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—Floyd Dever, 36, a former Navy Seabee and boat builder of nearby Russells Points, has near an economical way to raise the sunken Italian ocean liner Andrea Doria, but won't say what it is.

Dever, who designs and builds pleasure craft, said Sunday he had written to the American Hull Insurance Co. of New York, offering to demonstrate the method in the East River there.

He said by using his method the 29,000-ton luxury liner, which now lies in 225 feet of water south of Nantucket Island, could be raised in 90 days.

The Andrea Doria sank July 26 after a collision with the Swedish ship Stockholm.

Lowly Senators Plain Poison to Boston Crew

If Sox Unable To Nip Yankees, They Can Blame It on Nats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the Boston Red Sox fail in their drive to overtake the American League-leading New York Yankees, as it now seems likely, they can blame it on the Washington Senators.

The lowly Nats, waging a season-long struggle to stay out of the cellar, have been plain poison to the Red Sox. On the other hand, they have been little more than a doormat for the Yankees.

They have won 9 of 13 games with Boston, the best record of any team against the Red Sox. In sharp contrast, they've won only 2 of 16 with the Yankees. There is your reason why the Yankees today were in first place, 10 games in front of the third-place Red Sox.

While New York was increasing its margin over runner-up Cleveland to 8½ games Sunday by sweeping a double-header from Baltimore 6-2 and 4-2, Washington was whipping the Red Sox 8-2. The Indians widened their lead over Boston to a game and a half by defeating Kansas City 6-3. Detroit thrashed Chicago 5-2.

In the National, Milwaukee maintained its 1½-game bulge on Brooklyn by overpowering Cincinnati 8-2 as the Dodgers were beating Robin Roberts and Philadelphia 7-3.

Pittsburgh whipped the Giants 3-2 and 11-3 while Chicago played a scoreless nine-inning tie with St. Louis after defeating the Cardinals 6-2. Darkness halted the second game.

Outfielders Jim Lemon and Roy Sievers, who have been hitting practically everything Boston pitchers have thrown at them this year, were the offensive stars again as Washington knocked starter Willard Nixon out of the box in the first inning.

Lemon blasted his fourth home run in the three-game series with Boston and drove in two runs. Sievers collected three singles and drove in a run.

The Yankees' one-two punch of Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra did it again. Mantle smashed his 41st home run and drove in three runs in the opener as Don Larsen went the route for his seventh victory. Berra's two-run triple proved the difference in the second game.

Herb Score struck out 14 for his 12th victory. Bobby Avila, Rocky Colavito and Al Smith homered for the Indians.

Second baseman Frank Bolling cracked a three-run homer and a double that enabled the Tigers' Billy Hoelt to win a southpaw duel from Chicago's Billy Pierce.

Lew Burdette hurled a five-hitter for the Braves as they won the rubber of their three-game set from Cincinnati. Milwaukee chased 16-game winner Brooks Lawrence in the third and went on to collect eight hits, including two by Bobby Thomson, who drove in two runs.

Carl Furillo slammed two of Brooklyn's four home runs. Pee Wee Reese and Randy Jackson got the other two. Roger Craig won his 11th although he needed help from Clem Labine in the ninth.

Homers by Jim King and Monte Irvin accounted for five of Chicago's six runs as right-hander Bob Rush scattered nine St. Louis hits for his 11th triumph. Herman Wehmeier, Card right-hander, and Jim Davis, Cub southpaw, waged the scoreless second-game duel.

Frank Thomas singled four times to spearhead a 17-hit Pirate attack against three Giant pitchers in the second game after Pittsburgh had won the opener on Bill Virdon's two-run triple.

Golf's 19th Hole

The handicap golf tournament at the Country Club has finally come to an end. O. W. House defeated Dick Filbil, backfield coach for the FHS Lion football squad, 6 and 5 to win the first flight title.

This tournament is played in four divisions, of flights—the championship flight, first, second and third flights—in which the golfers are grouped according to their golfing skill as represented by their scores over a period of several weeks.

With the handicap tournament a thing of the past for another year, golfers are now getting ready for the championship (or open without benefit of handicap) tournaments—one for the men and one for the women.

Pairings for the men's tournament was completed last week, but those for the women's tournament have just been made out by Tony Capuana, the club pro.

IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP flight for the women's tourney are:

Mrs. Charles Buxton vs. Mrs. George Fox; Mrs. John Petty vs. Mrs. James Martin; Mrs. Ronnie Cornwell vs. Mrs. Willard McLean

Bainbridge Blanked By Milledgeville

Milledgeville's Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League baseball team unlimbered its heavy artillery and blasted the Bainbridge boys with a 7 to 0 shutout at the city park here Sunday afternoon.

This was the first adult baseball game played on the relatively new diamond on Oakland Ave. Heretofore, only the Babe Ruth League teams of teenagers have been playing there.

The Milledgeville victory, in the nature of a mild upset, put the Fayette County team in a tie for second place in the league with their victims of Sunday.

It was, in reality, the decisiveness of the victory, rather than the victory itself, that was the surprise. The Milledgeville boys lost no time in getting to the slants of Bainbridge's Shumate and put across 4 runs in the first frame.

Big games for the Milledgeville attack were Ike Merriman and Ray Hendricks, each of whom clouted home runs. Merriman's homer, one of his 3 hits in 5 trips, came with the bases empty. Hendricks' round-tripper was good for 3 runs.

Play in the field by both teams was fast and efficient.

Brave, Redleg Pitchers Eye Sunday Result

MILWAUKEE (P)—To hear Lew Burdette and Brooks Lawrence talk, yesterday's 8-2 Milwaukee triumph over Cincinnati should have ended the other way around.

Burdette, with "the poorest stuff I've had in a long time," pitched a five-hitter for his 14th victory of the season and third over the Redlegs without a setback.

Lawrence, with "the best stuff I've had in a long time," lasted less than three innings and was tagged with his fifth defeat against 16 victories.

Braves' Manager Fred Haney said Burdette has had better days and the 29-year-old right-hander agreed.

"I've had a lot better stuff," he said. "In fact, I had less out there than at almost any other time this season."

He said his slider, three "good" screwballs and a changeup that threw the homer-happy Redlegs off timing carried him through.

"They were going after that first pitch all through the game," said loquacious Lew, "so I took a little off it and moved it around on them. More times than not, I was ahead of 'em."

Over in the Redlegs clubhouse, Lawrence, the NL's leading pitcher, said:

"I can't understand it. I had terrific stuff out there, the best I've had in a long time."

"But," he added, as if to provide the answer to his own puzzle, "I can't remember being any wilder."

Lawrence, in the 2-2-3 innings he worked, gave up 4 walks, 5 hits and 6 runs. The Braves converted three of his free passes into runs.

Narleski Due For Test of Bruised Elbow

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—The injured elbow which has kept relief pitcher Ray Narleski out of the Cleveland Indians' lineup for six weeks will get a testing tonight in an exhibition game here with Minneapolis of the American Association.

The ace righthander has pitched some batting practice and, if he can meet tonight's test, he will be put to prompt use by Manager Al Lopez to help in the Tribe's battle with Boston for second place.

Narleski's earned-run average of 1.61 for 50 innings is by far the best among Cleveland hurlers.

A 6-3 victory in Kansas City yesterday increased the Indians' edge over Boston to 1½ games as the Red Sox lost to Washington.

Lefty Herb Score struck out 14 Athletics as he chalked up his 12th victory against seven losses.

But he gave three walks and was behind for half the game after the Athletics scored in the first innings on Vic Power's walk and Gus Zernial's double and added a second run in the third inning on Power's single, a wild pitch and Harry Simpson's single.

The Tribe tied it up in the fifth on Bob Avila's eighth homer of the year after loser Lou Kretlow had walked Chico Carrasquel. Kretlow's wild throw in the sixth gave the Tribe a 3-2 lead.

A hard double by Johnny Groth and a soft one by Hector Lopez in the sixth tied the score again.

Rocky Colavito and Al Smith each got home run No. 12 to decide the contest. Colavito poked his in the eighth, and Smith slammed his with Gene Woodling on in the ninth.

Outfielder Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Redlegs is that team's first rookie to hit more than 20 home runs in one season.

Physicals For Grid Hopefuls Set by Coach

Physical examinations for Washington C. H. High School football team members and aspirants will be held Wednesday afternoon starting at 1:30 p. m. in the field house.

Everyone interested in playing football for the Blue Lions this fall is expected to show up then. Coach Fred Domenico said Monday morning.

Examining the boys will be Dr. Marvin Roszmann and Dr. Byers Shaw. Every boy must be examined in order to play ball.

At the same time, Domenico announced that the boys will be expected to stay after the exams to read through their handbooks and attend a short pre-season meeting. Boys should plan on spending the whole afternoon down there, Domenico said.

Practice for the team will start next Monday, Aug. 20, the official practice starting date. Domenico further noted that it would be "helpful" if each boy would have a daily workout for himself between now and then.

Realtors Nosed Out By Kernels, 9 to 7

Time ran out on the Realtors and they lost their Saturday evening Little Major League game at Wilson Field by a score of 9 to 7.

The victory did not bring the Kernels out of the cellar, but it did pull the Realtors down into a tie for next-to-last place with the Cubs.

The heart-breaker for the Realtors was the clock and time rule; they had scored 3 runs in the top half of the sixth to take a 10-9 lead, but the score reverted to the fifth inning 9-7 figures in favor of the Kernels when a halt was called at 7:30 p. m. before the Kernels had a chance to bat.

The Kernels chalked up their sixth win by steady and determined plugging; they scored in every one of the five innings.

The Realtors, by contrast, started right off with a 4-run spree in the first inning and, then after scoring another in the second, went two scoreless frames, before the top going with 2 runs in the top of the fifth.

That gave them a 7-6 edge, but the Kernels came back in their half to tally 3—enough to win the game by a single run.

Finsterwald Ace Fails To Aid Ohioan

CHICAGO (P)—Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, scored a hole in one on the 160-yard third hole during the third round of the "World" golf tournament at Tam O'Shanter.

After paring the first two holes, Finsterwald hit a six iron on the third hole. The ball landed two feet past the pin and then rolled back into the cup.

Finsterwald ended up the tourney with 71-70-70-74—285. The winner, Ted Kroll, had a 273.

New York Boy Wins Annual Box Derby

AKRON (P)—A Rochester, N.Y., entrant, for the second year in a row, is the All-America Soap Box Derby champ.

Norman Westfall, 14-year-old high school sophomore who likes to paint neighbor's automobiles and tinker with hot rods, triumphed yesterday afternoon over a field of 155 at Derby Downs before a record crowd of 65,000.

Watching him roll his lavender-colored racer down the 975.4-foot slope in 27.41 seconds in the championship heat was Richard Rohrer of Rochester, winner last year. Rohrer, who had beaten Westfall in three previous local soap box derby races in Rochester, said:

"Norm did all this on his own. I'm a friend of his, but I didn't give him any help."

For his victory, Westfall earned a $5,000 scholarship which he said he would use to study engineering at the University of Rochester. His father, Robert W., is an Eastman Kodak Co. engineer.

C. Landon Flake of Daytona Beach, Fla. came in second, a quarter-length behind Norman, and Wayne David Ford of Long Beach, Calif. was another quarter-length back in third. Flake's prize is a $4,000 scholarship and Ford's a $3,000 one.

William C. King of Martins Ferry, Ohio, won a $2,000 scholarship for fourth; and Herman Neff Jr. of Logansport, Ind., a $1,000 scholarship for fifth.

Extra Inning Rally Is Needed Twice

RENO (P)—Ever see a team score five runs in the 10th inning and then have to score again in the 11th to win? Well, that's what happened to San Jose last night in a Class C California League game against Reno.

The Josox finally won 12-10 by scoring twice on errors in the second extra inning.

Helped by Don Gile's homer, the Josox scored five runs in the 10th only to see Reno score five in the last half.

Stan Musial Ties Extra Base Mark

NEW YORK (P)—Stan Musial's double in the first game at Chicago yesterday gave him a record tying 1,071 extra base hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals' first baseman is even with Mel Ott, formerly of the New York Giants, in lifetime long hits as a National Leaguer. Musial has a way to go for the all time major league mark—1,356, held by Babe Ruth.

Fox Valley Spud, driven by Eddie Morgan and owned by B. A. Dill of Clayton, broke his left hind leg at the ankle just after the start of the first heat of the free-for-all trot at Wilmington Saturday night and had to be destroyed.

They got him off the track all right. He didn't go down and he walked off the track.

Jeff Team Clobbers All-Star Squad, 20-1

The first-place Jeffers on village team beat the last-place Chillicothe All-Stars, 20-1, in a wide-open seven-inning ball game in the Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League Sunday afternoon.

Jeff's team scored in every inning, picking up 20 hits and letting go not a single error. Ken Robertson, pitching for Jeff, racked up 15 out of a possible 21 strikeouts and picked off two men from the bases.

Chillicothe scored its only run in the first inning.

Charles Horney led the Jeff hitting attack with 3 runs and 4 hits. One of the hits was a home run.

No less than five triples were rung up by Jeff in the game—one each by Bob Hildreth, Robinet and Bob Alkire and two by Bucky Dumford.

Ike Makes Error, Ohio Solon Feels

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. Kirwan (D-Ohio) believes President Eisenhower made a mistake in vetoing the $1 1/2 billion water projects authorization bill.

The bill would have approved 99 flood control, rivers and harbors and beach erosion projects for future construction.

"I think the congressmen from the various districts involved know much more about what's needed than did the Budget Bureau," said Kirwan, here for the Democratic national convention.

In vetoing the bill, Eisenhower said that while a majority of the projects involved had been reviewed by the executive branch of the government, many had not.

Scotch Tourney Marked by Ties

Putting Performance Grabs Spotlight

The Scotch foursome that highlighted Sunday afternoon's golf at the Country Club here wound up in a tie when the teams of Mrs. Ruth Athey and Dwight Coffman and Mrs. Wayne Shobe and Bill McLean turned in the low gross score cards of 41 each.

To tighten up the affair, there was a three - team tie for the low net score when Mrs. Charles Buxton and Bill Himmelsbach, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Specht and Mrs. Bud Schlupe and Harold Miller all came in with cards of 36.

The sensation of the day, however, was provided by the amazing putting performance of a couple of young people, Miss Nancy Schlupe and Rober McLean, who took only nine putts, just one on each of the nine greens. This is considered nine under par, for two putts are allowed in figuring par for each hole.

Mrs. Roger Littleton and Gene Gordon were not far behind for the putting honors with a very good count of 12.

Mrs. Robert Hagerty and Ralph Bray turned in the most 6s, Mrs. Clarence Christman and Bud Dawson the most 7s and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Molyneux the most 8s.

Miss Marilyn Cunningham and Clarence Christman and Mr. and Mrs. John Trace won the blind bogey.

NET SCORES were: Mrs. Tony Capuana and Miss Kristen Himmelsbach 37; Miss Gretchen Himmelsbach and Miss Cunningham 39; Mrs. Lorena Littleton and Charles Buxton 37; Mrs. Ronnie Cornwell and Ed Vollette 40; Mrs. Robert Hagerty and Ralph Bray 38; Mrs. Wayne Shobe and Bill McLean 38; Mrs. Bill McLean and Wayne Shobe 37; Mr. and Mrs. John Trace 39; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lisk 37; Mrs. Ed Vollette and Ronnie Cornwell 37; Miss Marilyn Cunningham and Clarence Christman 40; Mrs. Clarence Christman and Bud Dawson 40; Mrs. Dwight Coffman and Clarence Maddox 40; Mrs. Roger Littleton and Gene Gordon 39; Mrs. John Petty and Bud Schlupe 37; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harrison 37; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed 37; Mrs. Robert Dunton and Cecil R. VanZant 40 and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daves 37.

A buffet supper was served following the play on the links. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Helfrich, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bray were co-chairmen of the event.

The next Scotch foursome has been scheduled for Sept. 9.

Favorite Son

Out of a confusion of state delegation caucuses there emerged this general picture:

Stevenson forged above the 500-vote mark in first - ballot strength in the Associated Press poll of delegates willing to state a public preference.

Latest figures showed Stevenson with 538 votes to 213 for Harriman, 277½ scattered among favorite sons and others and 34½ still uncommitted and unwilling to state a preference. The nomination requires 686½.

The Harriman camp claimed 490 votes; Stevenson strategists stuck to their prediction of 600 to 630 on the first ballot.

Truman busied himself from morning till late at night seeing candidates, governors and delegation chiefs. He worked with his old pros of former years not only to get Harriman support but to keep "favorite sons" in the race.

AFTER DAYS of suspense, he announced Saturday he regards Harriman as the "best qualified man" to be President.

Sen. Johnson got some support for his strategy of keeping Dixie delegations out of the Stevenson column until the convention acts on the platform's controversial civil rights plank, or until he or some other favorite son could overhaul Stevenson.

Aided by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who campaigned with him until last midnight despite her 71 years, Stevenson kept up a drumming pace. By all odds, he was the favorite in the applause

Theft Occurs at Service Station

The Montgomery Service Station on Market Street reported to police Sunday forenoon that someone had stolen $30 to $50 from an open box in the top drawer of a desk in the station office.

Apparently the theft occurred while employees were outside servicing automobiles, and so far as known, no definite clues were left.

Police are of the opinion that someone who knew the money was kept in the box stole it, as only a few seconds would be necessary to open the drawer, pick up the currency from the open box and close the drawer.

County Sets Up More Road Work

Commissioners Order Further Improvements

As a part of the expanding Fayette County highway program, the Fayette County Board of Commissioners passed a resolution for improvements on six more stretches of county roadway at their regular meeting in the Court House Monday.

In all but one of these, the work is not by contract, but will be done by crews from the county highway department using blade mix and seal surfacing. Work is to start on these within the next 10 days.

THE ROADS to be improved are: Reid Road in Jefferson and Paint Townships, from the Carr Rd. to the Madison County line, 3.206 miles.

Harmony Rd., from Burnett-Perrill Rd. to Palmer Rd., 589 of a mile, Jasper Township.

West Lancaster Rd., Jefferson Township, from U. S. Rt. 35 to Upper James Rd., 3.267 miles.

Carr Rd., from State Highway 70 to Gregg Rd., 1.115 miles Jefferson Township.

Upper Jamestown Rd., from Sta. Highway 70 to Greene County line, Jefferson Township, 3.334 miles.

Allen St., in Fayette County on the edge of New Holland, Marion Township, 65 of a mile Special resurfacing work with part of cost paid by village of New Holland.

ASIDE FROM payment of bills and routine business, there was nothing else before the commissioners at this meeting, except the granting of permission to the Ohio Bell Telephone Company to install a public pay telephone booth on the first floor of the Court House. The purpose of this is to provide a telephone for public use without people requesting use of Court House office phones. The county receives a share of the revenue from such a phone.

at gatherings where he, Harriman and others turned out.

About 10,000 people tried to jam their way into a reception Stevenson gave for Mrs. Roosevelt. When he and Harriman made separate appearances at a dinner given for Democratic women, Stevenson got an ovation, Harriman only polite applause.

In the jockeying for delegate votes, Stevenson seemed to be tending off Harriman's challenge as the uncommitted Northern delegations began to shake down.

There was no sign that Truman had been able to move into action for Harriman any of the organized labor leaders who previously have maintained a neutral attitude on the candidates. Union leaders worked with Truman to put across Stevenson's nomination in 1952.

Gus Scholle, president of the Michigan State CIO Council, said Truman's endorsement of Harriman hadn't changed his support of Stevenson.

Legion Meeting Monday Night

Member Sign-Up To Be Discussed

With the present membership campaign now in full swing progress of the sign-up is certain to be one of the major subjects taken up for discussion at Monday (tonight) night's meeting of the Paul H. Hughey post of the American Legion.

This was the opinion of Russell Whited, post commander, but he did not go into other details of the agenda for the meeting, which is slated to start at 8 o'clock.

Hugh Gidding, post adjutant, was out of the city, but said before he left that the membership campaign and "several other pieces of important business" would be taken up.

The membership campaign, which started about two weeks ago, comes to the climax on Veterans Day, Nov. 11. This is the pattern that has been followed for many years.

COMMANDER Whited said one of the things that would be gone over again is the eligibility of veterans, of whom there are an estimated 2,540 of all wars in the county. He pointed out that, under Legion regulations, men and women are eligible if they served from April 6, 1917 to Nov. 11, 1918 in World War I; from Dec. 7, 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945 in World War II and from June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953 in the Korean War.

A goal of 500 members by Nov. 11 has been set by the post here and with around 2,540 veterans in the county, Whited thinks that should not only be reached, but also surpassed.

The post had a membership of 370 last year and it is over 400 now, with nearly two months to go. Whited said and added that more than 25 had signed up in the last two weeks.

Ex-Illinois Leader Enters Guilty Pleas

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Orville E. Hodge, ousted state auditor accused of taking $1 million in state funds, today pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement, forgery and confidence game.

Hodge, 51-year-old former official in the Illinois Republican administration, entered the plea before Circuit Judge Clem Smith at his arraignment on 46 state indictments resulting from the $1 million financial scandal.

Reportedly feeling ill and depressed, the dapper, free-spending political figure changed his plea from innocent—previously entered—to guilty as each of the indictments was read to the court.

There was no indication whether Judge Smith would pass sentence on Hodge today. Arthur M. Fitzgerald, attorney for Hodge, said earlier he would seek immediate sentencing of his client, an erstwhile political figure who in the past has entertained hope of winning the governorship.

George P. Coutarakon, Sangamon County state's attorney, said he will oppose immediate imposition of sentence. He said he wants time to present more evidence of the magnitude of the state scandal and will seek to delay passing of sentence at least a week.

C of C Warns Of Furnace Repair Racket

William Stoughton, manager of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, warned Fayette County residents Monday about the activities of furnace repair gyps.

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, Stoughton said that the racket is most active during the summer and early fall, when furnaces are not in use. Quoting from the bulletin, Stoughton stated:

"In a typical version of the racket, the unscrupulous repairman will ring the home-owner's doorbell—frequently during the daytime when the man of the house is away—and state that 'he just happens to be in the neighborhood' and has 'just completed some other furnace repair work nearby.' He states that, while he and his associates are in the area, they are willing to undertake a complete inspection of the home-owner's furnace, with absolutely no obligation of any sort to the home-owner."

ONCE the repairman secures access to the basement, Stoughton stated, he dismantles the entire furnace, and then states that it is "extremely dangerous condition and is unreparable. By the use of such 'scare' tactics, the gyps frequently succeed in getting the home-owner to sign a contract for a 'entire new heating plant.'

In some instances, gyp furnace repairmen may pose as "official inspectors," or representatives of governmental or civic groups, in order to secure access to the home-owner's furnace for the purpose of dismantling it. In other instances, the gyps will take the furnace apart for the purpose of "cleaning" it, and will then call in a fake "heating engineer," who is in reality a party to the hoax, to look over a defective y have allegedly discovered. This fake engineer will give his opinion that the furnace is dangerous and irreparable.

Stoughton's advice is "investigate before you invest."

Half Vote Ready

CHICAGO — Unofficial pre-convention polls of Indiana's delegation to the Democratic national convention today showed Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio has one half of a vote. The 52 delegates have only half a vote each.

Hobby Club Has Enjoyable Meet

Picnic Session Held At Briggs Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Briggs were hosts to more than 30 members of the Fayette County Hobby Club Sunday evening for a picnic meeting of the organization.

The spacious, shady lawn at the Briggs home was an ideal spot for the elaborate picnic supper which was brought together by all members of the organization. The members and guests were seated at small tables on the lawn.

Following the supper a short business session was held. After guests were introduced and welcomed, numerous interesting articles were exhibited and information given concerning them.

Included among the exhibits were oil paintings by Mrs. Mabel Smith or Paint St.; a pencil sketch by James Yates; old German pitcher, unique glass bottle; fancy work and a beautiful old jardiniere.

Upon invitation by President Roscoe Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kelley gave some interesting highlights on a recent vacation tour of the east.

Nathaniel Tway, chairman of the committee on arrangements for a program to be presented at the September meeting of the Fayette County Nurses Association, announced plans were being completed for the event.

Plans for the next meeting were discussed and appreciation extended to Mr. and Mrs. Briggs for their generous hospitality.
